STRATEGIC POINT IN MONGOLIA CAPTURED BY CHINESE FORCES

Number of Japanese Army Officers Reported Seized When Pailingmiao Is Taken by Troops Of Suiyuan—Wuchuan Also Seized—"On To Chahar" Is the New Battle-Cry

KWEISUI, Suiyuan Province, China, Nov. 26 (P).—Suiyuan military officers declared today a number of Japanese army officers were seized in the capture of the strategic Mongolian stronghold of Pailingmiao.

Chinese sources asserted a large number of Japanese—probably 200—participated in the struggle around the city, capture of which was announced last night by General Fu Tso Yi.

The general also announced seizure of the important town of Wuchuan. Chinese reports estimated between 100 and 200 were killed in bitter hand-to-hand fighting at the two points.

A new battle-cry of "On to Chahar to recover China's lost provinces" resounded through the streets of Kweisui as Chinese military and political authorities discussed the possibility of a clean sweep of Manchukuo and Mongol invaders from Inner Mongolia.

Pailingmiao fell, Chinese said, which 4,000 Mongols and Manchukuoan irregulars were chopped after a bitter all night struggle, in places in hand-to-hand fighting through the streets.

Vancouver City Enveloped Again in Traffic-Paralyzing Fog

VANCOUVER, Nov. 25 (P).—For the fourth night Vancouver tonight was shrouded in a heavy fog that brought automobile and marine traffic practically to a standstill.

Many an automobile headlamp was smashed and many a fender dented in minor smashes, but no major accidents were reported to police.

No holdups were reported to police tonight, but two grocery store proprietors turned in reports of being robbed last night by gunmen who disappeared in the fog.

Sign Alliance to Oppose Advance Of Communism

Germany and Japan Join in Pact Directed Against Spread of Bolshevism Throughout the World

Specific Mention Made of Moscow-Directed Internationale, Report Says

BERLIN, Nov. 25 (P).—Japan and Germany today signed a pact directed against Communism throughout the world, and pointed specifically to the Communist Internationale from Moscow "threatened world peace" and asserted future Communist proletarianism would not be tolerated by either of the signatories.

The Japanese-German agreement signed today charged directly to the activities of the Communist Internationale from Moscow "threatened world peace" and asserted future Communist proletarianism would not be tolerated by either of the signatories.

Propaganda Minister Paul Joseph Goebbels asserted tonight that the alliance was directed solely against the Moscow Internationale and not against any state. It provides that the parties shall consult on cooperative anti-Communist measures.

THIRTEEN ON PLANE SAFE, BUT SHIP MISSING IN ALASKA GALE

Worst Storm in Years Sweeps Across Southern Part Of Territory—Long Unreported Machine Safe At Gull Cove—Motorship Is Some Days Overdue at Seward

JUNEAU, Alaska, Nov. 25 (P).—The Federal Radio Station at Juneau tonight received a message saying that Pilot Chet Brown's tri-motored transport airplane with twelve other persons was "safe and sound" at Gull Cove, and the ship would resume its flight "as soon as weather permitted."

The report of the plane's safety came while a severe storm, the worst in twelve years, howled across Southern Alaska and forced a lone searching pilot to return after an unsuccessful flight to hunt the air liner.

The plane, with a co-pilot and eleven passengers, left Cordova Monday for a 500-mile flight south-eastward over the Gulf of Alaska to Juneau.

Somehow in gale-lashed waters, the motorship Kallio, carrying an undetermined number of passengers, remained unreported on a voyage to Seward from Seldovia, which she left November 21.

A strong wind reaching gale and hurricane proportions swept over Cordova and Seward and parts of the Gulf of Alaska.

The gale has continued with undiminished velocity in portions of the Gulf of Alaska and off Seward for eight days, where the motorship Discoverer lay sheltered after losing her second mate, who was washed overboard en route. Earth shakes were felt during the day but did no apparent damage.

BUILDINGS ARE DAMAGED
At Cordova the wind moved an apartment house two feet from its foundations, blew the top of a church away and crushed the front of the old City Hall.

After darning a crackup himself in the dense fog, which hung right on the ground in the fifty-mile area between Juneau and Chignikof Island, to determine whether an object reported by fishermen was the missing tri-motored plane, Pilot Sheldon Simmons landed back in Juneau tonight without locating it.

RUSSIA TO ADD TO ARMAMENTS

Stalin Approves New Commissariat in Presenting Broader Constitution

MOSCOW, Nov. 25 (P).—The usually taciturn Joseph Stalin today approved a new and elaborate military industry commissariat, which he informed observers to believe he wished to accelerate Russian armament in preparation for war.

The idea was the only one accepted of the 100,000 suggestions offered for the new constitution which Stalin formally presented for ratification by the eighth All-Union Congress of Soviets.

Stalin, in opening the congress in the Kremlin, delivered his second public address in history, speaking for two hours and fifteen minutes.

The new ministry, Stalin said, would be evolved from the heavy industry commissariats which have been in charge of armaments.

The major part of Stalin's speech, as Secretary-General of the Communist party, was devoted to an attack of Fascism and assurance that the Communist party would continue to be the only party in Russia.

Speaking on the day when an anti-Communist agreement between Germany and Japan was announced in Berlin, Stalin told the congress the new constitution gave moral support to all those fighting Fascism.

He made it plain that the new constitution would in no way change the one-party system of Soviet Government.

PATROLMAN FINDS HOLLYBURN HIKER

WEST VANCOUVER, Nov. 25 (P).—Billy Reeves, twenty-one-year-old Vancouver hiker, reported missing on Hollyburn Ridge north of here since Sunday, was located safe today by Patrolman Scotty Finlayson, of West Vancouver police.

Notified by British Columbia Provincial Police at North Vancouver that Reeves was missing, Finlayson visited cabins on the mountainside.

The youth's mother said her son had left home Saturday with blankets and two days food supply. He failed to return Sunday evening.

Challenges Remark Credit of Province Is Highest in West

J. W. Jones, Former Minister of Finance, Disputes Statement of Hon. John Hart—Says Debt Rose From $166,000,000 to $197,400,000

INDIGNANTLY challenging a public statement of Hon. John Hart, Provincial Minister of Finance, that British Columbia's credit was the highest of any province in Western Canada and the lowest when the Liberal Government was elected, J. W. Jones gave a clear insight into financial matters at a Ward Five Conservative meeting in the Campbell Building last evening. Mr. Jones was Minister of Finance from 1931 to 1933 in the Tolmie Conservative Government.

British Columbia's per cent bonds, due in 1947, were selling for 103 in 1933, three points over par. Today they could be bought for less than par, Mr. Jones declared. Bonds issued for the last Tolmie Government loan of $3,000,000 sold at a far higher price than those marketed in Alberta at the same time. Although the Conservatives were always able to secure advances or float necessary loans, the present Government had not been able to go on the market and float a loan since it had been in power. It had to go to Ottawa on bended knees to beg for money, he asserted.

When the Conservatives left office, the gross debt of the Province was $166,000,000. Under Liberal government, the debt had risen to $197,400,000, with a $10,000,000 shortage in sinking funds, Mr. Jones stated.

BIG DEBT RISE
He said the Hart budget was the first he had ever heard of that was balanced with use of the words "expenses" and "income".

Altered Fire Hall Hours Would Cost City Over $17,000

REORGANIZATION of fire department working hours, as sanctioned by the Legislature over protest of the City Council, will probably cost over $17,000 per year, Fire Wardens Walter Lunney and T. W. Hawkins announced yesterday.

Mr. Hawkins pointed out the change would possibly mean employment of twelve or thirteen new men. Under the present two-patoon system, firemen are required to be present at the fire hall twelve hours per day for six days each week. With the new scheme in effect, they would work five days of twelve hours each per week.

A millenium, but they did not last more than three to five years. He said it was easy to see where British Columbia would drift if it followed the lead of Premier William Abernethy of Alberta.

CAPITAL REMOVED
There was no building going on in Alberta, capital was flowing away from the province, and Alberta 6 per cent bonds were in the sixties, with no takers. "Those who had property there were commencing to feel the pinch under Social Credit," he mused. British Columbia did not want to follow the lead of Alberta.

While the Conservative Government owed the Federal Government only $4,000,000, the present regime had raised the sum to $30,000,000, Mr. Jones said.

He regretted that there was not more to show for the $30,000,000 spent on relief since 1930. Today there were 11,000 less in receipt of assistance, yet relief was costing the Liberal Government more than in 1930. He charged that huge expenditures were being made without any thought to the future and resources were being tapped and denuded.

REDUCE TAXES
There was no chance of securing more industries in British Columbia until the advent of an economical government and a reduction in taxation. Conservatives offered a safe and sane party under the able leadership of Dr. Frank Patterson, and the finest material was available for Cabinet ministers, Mr. Jones asserted.

Even though there was unrest in Germany, Italy, France and Spain, and the world was confronted with the most serious situation in the past century, Great Britain was forging ahead industrially and preparing for the future. The navy and army were being developed to take care of any emergency, and Great Britain would eventually be in a position to dictate to the rest of Europe, Mr. Jones believed.

In giving a brief history of early Canadian history, Mr. Jones told how many promised to bring in

COURT HEARS CLAIMS OF HIGH OFFICIALS

Justice gave the answer: "There will be the same order as on previous occasions." This meant the claim was granted.

The first petition was from the Dean and Chapter of Westminster to instruct the King in the rites and ceremonies of the coronation. The Bishop of Durham claimed the right to support the King during the coronation, with certain other privileges. H. J. Scrymgeour, Widdern, youthful Under-Secretary for Scotland, claimed the right to carry the Royal Standard of Scotland as hereditary standard-bearer.

TO PROVIDE GLOVE

The Bishop of Bath and Wells claimed certain rights. The Duke of Newcastle claimed the right to provide a glove for the King's right hand, and to support His Majesty's right arm while holding the sceptre. The Earl of Strathmore claimed the right to carry a white wand as Lord High Steward of Ireland. The Lord Mayor of London claimed the right to attend the King and carry the city's crystal mace.

Two claims were passed over at least temporarily. The Duke of Devonshire claimed the right to wear a standard as the King's champion. The second was that of Rev. H. Catton Smith, to be present at the coronation by virtue of tenure and in Nottingham. These and other claims to be presented later refer to rights treasured for centuries by the families which submit them.

CONSTIPATION MAY SLOW YOU DOWN

Correct-It by Eating the Right Meals

The most common type of constipation is due to insufficient "bulk" in the diet. When you continue to eat poorly balanced meals, over a period of weeks and months, faulty elimination often develops. You feel uncomfortable, "back" your accustomed vigor.

Eat a balanced diet. Include milk, fruits and vegetables as protective foods. Also sufficient "bulk." Kellogg's All-Bran is a convenient source of "bulk." Within the body, it absorbs moisture, forms a soft mass, gently cleanses the intestinal tract.

Fruits and vegetables contain some "bulk," of course. But scientific tests show that, with certain people, this "bulk" is largely broken down within the body. This does not happen to the same extent with bran. When you eat Kellogg's All-Bran, you can be sure of obtaining effective "bulk."

Serve All-Bran as a cereal, with milk or cream, or cook into muffins, breads, etc. Two table-spoonfuls daily are usually sufficient. Stubborn cases may require All-Bran often. If you believe this way, consult your doctor.

All-Bran is guaranteed by the Kellogg Company as a natural laxative food for constipation. Eat it regularly for regularity. Sold by all grocers. Made by Kellogg in London, Ontario.

"Constipation due to insufficient 'bulk'."

Thrilling Rescue From Fire

Thrilling rescues by firemen and pedestrians, such as the one shown, of trapped persons in a blazing inferno on the top floor of a music studio in Atlanta, Ga., saved the lives of a score of persons. Despite the heroic work of the firemen, three persons died and eighteen others were injured. The victim, rescued so spectacularly, died a few hours later.

the city and are not subject to control by city police.

He admitted he had heard rumors of a "pay-off" and had investigated it in the Summer of 1935. "I couldn't find any evidence of it, though," he said.

As the commission began its investigation of club licensing in Vancouver, Detective W. J. McFarlane was called to the stand.

PLENTY OF GAMBLING
"Are you satisfied there is a tremendous amount of gambling in this city?" R. L. Matland, Crown counsel, asked the witness.

"A tremendous amount," "Including young and old?" "Young and old."

"Is it becoming quite a business?" "Yes, quite a business."

"Did you ever participate in any pay-off?" Interjected the commissioner.

"Never," witness said. Mr. Matland asked: "What about young people?"

"Lots of young fellows are gambling around the age of twenty," witness declared.

"No difficulty to get into these clubs?"

EASY ENTRANCE
"You have to have a membership card. All that is needed for the candidate for membership to be vouched by one or two members in the strictest of them. Then he pays his ten cents."

At the afternoon sessions of the inquiry, dissatisfaction with Canada's Criminal Code, the Friendly Societies Act and customs regulations dealing with importation of gambling devices, was expressed by the commissioner and Mr. Matland.

Discussing the club licensing situation in Vancouver, Mr. Matland, Crown Counsel, said difficulty was found in obtaining convictions of clubs on gambling charges. Higher courts often reversed the decisions handed down in Vancouver.

The Brunswick Club, previously said to have 12,000 members, was one such case. Mr. Matland told Commissioner Macdonald.

cases of hand grenades, one case of fuses and four cutlasses. Subsequent investigation it was said, showed the former embassy "sheltered refugees storing arms and ammunition."

There were forty-five Spaniards arrested in the building, but officials said they believed some others, including the former Marquessa de Unzujo, and the former Countess de Montele, apparently had taken shelter from the bombing.

The defence junta tonight was disturbed by the activities of a fleet of "ghost cars" which roam the city at night and snipe at militia cars.

FIGHT FOR PROMISE
Outside Madrid, meanwhile, the international column of anti-Fascists fought to make good their promise to drive their foes from the hospital-cum building of University City within two days.

A Government surprise attack on the Casa de Campo in the morning broke a concentration of insurgent troops for a final assault on Madrid. The Government announced.

The War Ministry also asserted its forces held Zaratejo, near Escorial, and that Simplicio, near Aranjuez, were under heavy fire.

TO 'HUMANIZE' WAR
A group of politically-mixed British Members of Parliament who journeyed to Spain to try to "humanize" the civil war, talked with General Jose Maria Madrazo's defence leader today while salivars corps continued fighting in the debris for bodies of those killed in past bombardments.

The defence junta food supply commission ordered all trucks requisitioned to transport food into Madrid.

HARBOR MASTER WILL BE CALLED

Another Adjournment Taken In Attack Upon City By-Law Against Soliciting

In the case involving the right of the city of Victoria to prohibit soliciting traffic for taxi services by the use of a megaphone from aboard a boat operating from the waters of the harbor at a point off Pendray's Wharf, the police court did not get very far yesterday.

An adjournment was taken until Monday, when George Kirkendale, harbor master of the port of Victoria, will be called to testify as to what he had told Arthur Buller with respect to the latter going out on this soliciting mission, and for which Mr. Buller is charged with offending against the by-law of the city.

While Mr. Buller was not permitted to make a definite answer as to what the harbor master told him, Mr. Buller said he consulted the harbor master before he did the soliciting from the water.

It was contended by C. L. Harrison, for the city, that Mr. Buller's testimony in respect to the harbor master's statement could not be accepted as evidence. That must come from Mr. Kirkendale himself.

Stuart Henderson thereupon asked for an adjournment in order to allow for calling the harbor master.

At the sitting of the court yesterday, H. J. Crane, registrar of the Victoria land registry office, produced copies of the orders-in-council passed by the Dominion in April, 1935, and which was gazetted in both the Canada Gazette and the British Columbia Gazette of the time. There were also produced two maps of the harbor as affected by the orders-in-council.

In reply to Mr. Harrison, Mr. Buller testified that while he did not know Shoal Point as such, he admitted that the position he was in on the day of the alleged offence was as evidenced by the boundary line set by the statute of 1892 which enters into the controversy.

INVITED TO SIGNING
Representatives of all diplomatic missions in Berlin were invited to witness the signing of the agreement by Japanese Ambassador Kato, German Ambassador von Ribbentrop, German Ambassador to Great Britain, the right-hand man of Reichsfuehrer Adolf Hitler on foreign affairs.

Foreign diplomats poring over the text of the agreement tonight attacked greatest significance to the lack of geographical limitation of the pact.

NOT ADMITTED AT RUSSIA
TOKIO, Nov. 25.—The Japanese Foreign Office tonight declared the Japanese-German agreement to combat Communism was "not directed against the Soviet Union or any other specific power."

Rather, the announcement asserted, Japan entered the pact solely to counter Komintern activities "in support of Chinese Communist armies in order to fight Japan."

At the same time the Japanese statement held the door open for Poland to join the alliance and declared Poland was the next step. "In the further objectives of Komintern activities."

They say Air chilled by the cold mountain mists comes up—conquered by the slightly warmer air of Vancouver city and forms fog. The cold air from the mountains drains down the Fraser Valley, they say.

Compared with the mainland city, Victoria was a chosen spot during the past two weeks, and although there was fog in the evenings at odd times, the density was not sufficient to cause any serious interruption of traffic. So far this month citizens of the Capital City have enjoyed twenty-seven hours of sunshine or about 20 per cent above the average for November.

Technicality in Hiring Stevedores Holding Up Alaska Relief Ships

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 25.—Government authorities moved quickly today to get relief ships under way to strike-bound Alaska, although a union technically delayed the formalities and the far-flung maritime waitout expanded on several fronts.

Coincidentally peace negotiations started again between coastwise shippers and one of the striking West Coast unions.

The union hitch developed shortly after Col. O. F. Olson, manager of the Government-owned Alaska railroad, detailed plans to move fresh food, passengers and general cargo to the northern territory aboard ships chartered by the authority of President Roosevelt.

DECLINED TO SIGN
Olson said the International Longshoremen's Union declined to sign a working agreement pending an adjustment of two different methods of hiring stevedores involved.

Eight striking women delayed the departure of the liner President Harding from New York, which had been designated to replace the strike-bound liner President Roosevelt.

The liner Excambur cancelled its New York sailing.

Deck and engineering officers left two coal carriers in Boston harbor and four other crewless vessels were tied up.

Mates and engineers began leaving ships in Galveston, but one intercoastal liner sailed.

ACCEPTED INCREASE
More strikes harassed the Pacific Coast. About 300 cleaning and dyeing workers walked out in San Francisco demanding a forty-hour week and wage adjustments, but 200 grave-diggers and other cemetery employees accepted the wage increase and called off a projected strike.

The textile strike spread in Portland and minor violence was reported.

In new-born peace negotiations, representatives of the Coastwise Steam Schooners and the Cooks and Stewards' Union discussed plans for a tentative working agreement.

BETTER SUPPORT NEEDED IN DRIVE

Toy Repair Shop Sinks Many Toys For Underprivileged Children This Christmas

The response to appeals from the toy shop headquarters for playthings for needy children has not been as generous as was expected. It was learned last night. The number of toys received has fallen considerably behind that of last year, consequently, the citizens are again asked to try and contribute some toy to this cause.

To date some 1,600 toys have been repaired by the Boy Scouts, working under the direction of W. R. Barclay. The shop, at 1034 Johnson Street, is open from 10 o'clock in the morning until 10 o'clock at night, and inspection of the premises is invited by any interested persons.

Clothing is needed, particularly large size apparel for both men and women. Boots and shoes are also a necessity for the successful carrying out of plans to aid the needy and unemployed this winter.

It is proposed to hold a children's nativity scene, but no definite plans have yet been made. It is important that toys be written early so the workers will have the opportunity of effecting the necessary repairs before the Christmas distribution. Contributions will be called for and collected by November 30th, persons will telephone G 4332, G 3296 or G 8094.

London Paper Says Pacific Divided Into Zones of Influence

Reports Secret Protocol Included in Anti-Communist Pact Signed by Germany and Japan—Imaginary Line Drawn Through the Ocean

LONDON, Nov. 25 (CP-Havas).—A secret protocol partitioning the Pacific into zones of influence is annexed to the anti-Communist pact signed in Berlin today by Germany and Japan, The Evening Standard reported tonight.

The paper's report of a secret protocol was not given much credence in diplomatic circles, however. TO DESIGNATE ZONES On the basis of "authoritative information," the newspaper's diplomatic editor asserted the two countries have drawn an imaginary line through the Pacific to designate their respective zones of influence. Under the reported arrangement, the Dutch East Indies fall within Tokyo's jurisdiction, with Germany exerting away from its former Pacific colonies mandated to Japan by the League of Nations.

PAINS ALL OVER HIS BODY

Kruschen Made Him Feel a New Man

Read the experience of this man who had rheumatism so badly that at times he was prevented from working.

"About 10 months ago," he writes, "I suffered terribly with rheumatism and neuritis. The pains were all over my body and some days I could not even get up from bed to go to work. A friend visited me and suggested that I should try Kruschen Salts. I did so, the result being that the pains seemed to gradually disappear. I have been going to work ever since without a break, thanks to Kruschen Salts, and I feel a new man."

Rheumatic conditions are frequently the result of an excessive uric acid in the body. Two of the ingredients of Kruschen Salts are notable for their work in dissolving uric acid. Other ingredients assist nature to expel the dissolved acid from the system.

Revised Building By-Law Planned to Help Construction

TO discuss the new building by-law for Victoria, members of the City Council, the building inspector and fire chief will meet in the City Hall at 3:30 o'clock tomorrow afternoon. Aldermen T. W. Hawkins and Walter Luney have been at work for some time drawing up the by-law.

Alderman Hawkins pointed out yesterday that the by-law would facilitate building of all kinds by reducing numbers 1, 2 and 3 fire limits. He believed inflexible regulations of the past had been a drawback to construction within city limits.

FORMER CIVIC OFFICIAL DIES

James Barf Well Known as Building Inspector Here—Funeral Friday

THE LATE JAMES BARF

James Barf, aged sixty-five years, building inspector here from 1913 until his retirement in 1934, passed away yesterday morning at the family residence, 1608 Jubilee Avenue.

Mr. Barf was born in Harrogate, Yorkshire, England, in 1871 and came to Victoria in 1910. After working in the building trade for two years locally, Mr. Barf joined the City Hall staff as assistant building inspector. Then in 1913 he received highest marks out of forty-eight persons who sat for the examination for the post of building inspector and was appointed to that post.

In 1914, at the outbreak of the Great War, Mr. Barf left for overseas with the Canadian Engineers. He returned to his old post in 1919 and remained building inspector until he was superannuated in 1934.

Mr. Barf was highly respected by members of the City Hall staff, who yesterday expressed sorrow on learning of his death.

Mr. Barf is survived by his widow, four daughters, Mrs. Evelyn Moffat, Mrs. L. Edgar and Mrs. G. Hutchinson, all of Victoria, and Mrs. William Watts, Port Alberni; sisters and brothers in England and also one brother in Australia.

The funeral services will be held in Hayward's B.C. Funeral Chapel Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock, and interment will be made in the family plot in Ross Bay Cemetery.

STRATEGIC POINT IN MONGOLIA CAPTURED

A similar clash, it was said, brought the fall of Wu-chuan. Unofficial estimates of the casualties at Pailingmiao said the Suiyuanese lost 300 killed and wounded while the irregulars lost 300 killed, 600 wounded and 300 captured. General Fu is reported to have some 35,000 well-trained troops supported by anti-aircraft artillery and had riding Mongol cavalry deployed along the 100-mile long eastern line.

FIRST ANNIVERSARY
PEIPING, Nov. 25 (AP)—While Japanese influence in Inner Mongolia assembly suffered a setback before the Suiyuanese offensive, another sphere of Japanese interest to the east of here today celebrated the first anniversary of its existence. At Tunghow the Japanese inspired and supported "East Hopei Provincial Autonomous Government," honored its first birthday. The capital of the puppet Government was decorated with the five-striped Chinese flags of the former republican regime.

THE TURNING POINT
SHANGHAI, Nov. 25 (AP)—Reports of Chinese victories in Suiyuan Province in Inner Mongolia resulted today in a wave of patriotism in other parts of the nation. Through the Yangtze River valley, cities, towns and villages heralded the capture of Pailingmiao from Mongol irregulars as the turning point of China's destiny in the northwest.

WOULD ENTER INSANITY PLEA

William P. Bunt Contends He Was Not Responsible For His Recent Acts

With seven charges against him in the city police court of obtaining money and goods by false pretenses, William P. Bunt, through his counsel, A. J. Patton, wishes to plead not guilty to these accusations and enter a plea that he was not mentally responsible for his acts when he committed the deeds. To two of the charges, the accused has already pleaded guilty. Now Mr. Patton wishes to have the plea amended.

Mr. Patton told Magistrate H. O. Hall yesterday that according to information that he now had from the state of Oregon from a medical man there, the accused had had these kinds of hallucinations in 1933 and in 1934 and had been committed to a mental hospital instead of to prison for his acts. He described the accused as a monomaniac. He imagined he was someone else during the time he was under the spell and did not know what he was doing.

WAS CLERGYMAN
The accused, said Mr. Patton, was a Canadian, who had served overseas. His real name was Donald Cameron and he had been a preacher occupying a pulpit at Cottage Grove at one time.

The magistrate asked if he had the power to allow the amending of the plea in the two cases in which a plea of guilty had already been entered. C. L. Harrison, city prosecutor, said that he had the power to allow an altering, but only to rectify an error having been committed. He said that it would have to be shown that the accused did not know what he was doing when he entered the plea. The duty of establishing this would rest upon his counsel.

WILL BE EXAMINED
The magistrate suggested that the accused might be examined mentally by medical men, and for that purpose suggested an adjournment might be granted. Mr. Harrison pointed out that the presumption was that the accused was sane until it was proved otherwise. It rested with counsel for the accused to establish the claim that he was not responsible when he committed the acts. An adjournment was taken until

FOR FASTER STARTS WITH MORE POWER, LESS WEAR

WHEN THE TEMPERATURE DROPS YOU NEED A GASOLINE LIKE 76... AN OIL LIKE TRITON

Lower temperatures place greater demands on the gasoline and oil you use. That's why service men everywhere tell you the best cold weather combination is Winter 76 and Triton motor oil. Winter 76 is refined to vaporize instantly in cold motors. It is ready to go when you step on the starter. Triton, because it is Propane-Solvent refined, retains its fluidity at low temperatures, flows freely to all working parts protecting them against wear. And, MOST IMPORTANT, it puts less drag on your motor at starting... lets it turn over quickly, easily. You get away faster, with less wear and more power, when you use Winter 76 and Triton... the combination that assures double quick starting!

POPULATION OVER 11,000,000

The Dominion Bureau of Statistics places the present population of the Dominion at 11,028,000, which is an increase of 93,000 over 1935, but this estimated increase is the smallest in recent years. That is accounted for by emigration, as partially offsetting natural increase, and also by the drought conditions in the West, which have prevented new settlement there. Quebec has made the greatest gain of all the Provinces. Its population is now estimated at 3,096,000, and Ontario's population at 3,690,000. British Columbia gained 15,000 in the last year, making the total 750,000. A feature of the new estimate is the gain made in the Maritime Provinces. Nova Scotia increased by 10,000 persons; New Brunswick by 6,000, and Prince Edward Island by 3,000. For many years the latter Province had shown no gain at all. It is noteworthy that Quebec maintains a larger increase of population than any of the other Provinces. Thirty years ago its population was 1,784,000, and the percentage of increase in the three decades has been 80 to Ontario's 65.

THE GOLD STANDARD

Sir Thomas White is a strong believer in the restoration of the gold standard, but he thinks it will be many years before such stability is established. It is impossible while nations have unbalanced budgets and while some of them "seek unfair advantage" to their export trade through progressive inflation or devaluation of their currencies. Sir Thomas says that if world trade is ever again to be restored to what it ought to be a gold standard seems imperative at some time in the future. He considers that the recent currency devaluation in the nations of the gold block is a necessary step on the long way to ultimate restoration of the gold standard, because their currencies were over-valued in terms of other currencies and they suffered accordingly in their trade.

Sir Thomas predicts more or less confusion in the international exchanges until agreement is reached about a definite valuation, in terms of gold, of respective currencies and the acceptance of this by all nations. Once that standard is accepted, he says, manipulation of currencies will cease and there will be no longer any need such as now exists in Great Britain, the United States, Canada, France and certain other countries for stabilization funds to balance their currencies in relation to one another. There should be fixed currencies instead of flexible ones. The conclusion of a gold standard that will be accepted all round is by international agreement, and it would be an excellent thing for international trade and restored prosperity.

POLITICAL AGENTS

In Alberta, Social Credit members of the Legislature could best be described as "agents" of the party. They are not the representatives of the people of their constituencies as a whole because they are subject to the recall system. They are not supposed to exercise their judgment on the basis of conscience but rather that judgment must coincide with the principles of the party of which they are members. They must take dictation from the leadership of that party on any and all issues, even on those issues that have nothing whatever to do with the experimental doctrine that gave its name to the political creed.

Mr. James Hansen, the Social Credit member for Taber, is being made the subject of the recall system, the effort being to secure support for his removal from the Legislature by 46 per cent of the electors in his constituency. It has been decided that he is not supporting Social Credit principles. For one thing, he could not see his way clear to vote for Premier Abernethy's policies designed to repudiate debt and dealing with confidence. This is not the whole count against him, for evidently Mr. Hansen suffers from misgivings about Social Credit itself, and so he must be made a sacrifice on the altar of bigotry. He has dared to have a conscience and a judgment of his own.

NEWSPAPER HEADLINES

A theme chosen by The Northern Daily Telegraph of Blackburn in its jubilee edition is that of newspaper headlines. It collected a sheaf of these and printed them as a sombre comment on the times. The collection was made from one of the most sober-minded national organs in Great Britain, and a really black case was made out, for the world was shown to be "altogether out of joint, cantankerous, murderous and suicidal; and the captions of another schedule, based on the domestic sphere, would have made a dolorous parade of crime, matrimonial discord, and abandoned selfishness. The whole pointing to the country being peopled by miserable sinners." The Northern Daily Telegraph goes on to say: "Of course, as every capable newspaper reader knows, the charge can be amplified to an enormous extent. Every day the picture is re-drawn. Constantly the funeral tones are being more darkly etched. In public and in private men and women are confessing themselves burdened by their valuation of things that are, and despairingly apprehensive of the things that threatened to come. . . . The indictment is one of tremendous power. The evidence is convincing, but is a sweeping conclusion of moral and spiritual abandonment wholly true?"

The paper has another point of view to present, drawn also from its collection of headlines, and that is one of human selfishness. There is the story of five British lifeboats putting out into wind-lashed waters, their crews showing no consideration of cash or self-interest. Nothing was asked about the nationality of the ship in distress; there was the brotherhood of sailors risking all a man hath to save life. There was the story of a fire at Blackpool when firemen lay down their lives, "giving the lie to the theory that the twentieth century was becoming decadent."

"That theory," says The Northern Daily Telegraph, "is based on superficialities, is blind to the heroism that simply needs the chance of expression; to the pure gold of selfless service in the drudgery of domestic life; the valor of a myriad workers whose first thought is the women and the babies; the immensity of the good that is done by stealth. The newspaper headlines telling of things mean and malicious have their counterpart, moreover, in headlines recording the sanctified and consecrated endeavor by the dauntless unnamed host working for the uplift of their fellows and the cleansing of life. We find a line dedicated to the work of a society waging war on the 'vampires of the white slave traffic'; one of the prevention of tuberculosis in Lancashire; another on the rescue of Spanish outcasts; another about the saving of children from cruelty; another pointing to the merciful ministry of the infirmaries, and, were it needed, we could draw a schedule of good forces outlying those which are tending to the propagation of evil; and this without any understatement of the baser sort. We are not crying 'Alas well'; we are just pleading for recognition of the whole instead of half the truth."

EXPORTS TO UNITED STATES

So far the export trade of this country has not benefited to the extent expected as a result of the reciprocity pact with the United States. It is noted by the Department of Trade and Commerce that Canada's domestic exports to the United States for the nine months ending September 30 last showed a net increase of $21,511,139. What the Department does not say is that the chief increases have been in exports on which the American tariff remained unchanged. These were cattle, wood pulp, newspaper, nickel in matte or spels, asbestos and asbestos sand and waste, which accounted for $17,223,370 of the increase. There have been minor increases as well as reductions in other exports, but the fact is that the chief increases in Canada's exports across the line have been in commodities on which there have been no tariff reductions under the trade convention which went into effect on January 1 last.

Le Devoir, of Montreal, which is an isolationist newspaper so far as the Empire is concerned, says, "Canada is not England. It has nothing to do with the conquest of India: it is not concerned on its own account, in Asia or in Africa; it has direct and immediate interest only on the American continent. . . . This new country is loaded with heavy charges because, in addition to the enormous expense which the development of so vast a territory demands, it committed the error of adding the cost of a Great War. . . . Canada is so situated that it is almost beyond the attack of other countries, except that of its neighbor who could reach it directly, against whom all serious defence would be impossible, and who has as much interest in protecting Canadian territory as its own." What Le Devoir conveniently forgets in its isolationist plea is that England had very much to do with the conquest of Canada and a great deal to do as well with its settlement and development.

Note and Comment

By Sandham Graves

Historians will be puzzled to explain how it came about that in the shirt-sleeve province of the over-all country of the world half the population attempted to crowd into two cities, to live there a highly artificial life; how arts schools and colleges were developed; and the primary means of production, and therefore of trade, came to be so comparatively ignored.

Would it astonish you to learn that one-fourth of the agriculture, two-thirds of the mining, and almost all of the manufacturing of the world in this province by outside interests? That if you were to examine the coin which is current in these realms you would find the British pound, the American eagle, the Japanese yen, and the Chinese tael more often than you would trace the Canadian dollar as the energizing force in these primary industries? True, British Columbians are employed.

Here, then is a record of the world taking a closer interest in British Columbia than do the people who inhabit it. Why is that? Stand on the modern skyscrapers which ring Vancouver's waterfront about, and you will see the primeval forest stepping down almost to the city's edge. Look at Britannia, where man had cut a narrow path in the hillside, so that the ores tumbled out, while round and about the forest ranges still. Watch the inlet towns of the West Coast where boats, shacks, canneries, wharves and other gear of the fisheries are almost all afloat. Inquire on the farm, and see who the tenant really is.

And yet we have the nerve to talk about British Columbia industry! Doctors of philosophy, doctors of economics, doctors of literature, and of pedagogy; these be strange degrees to work our farms to till the soil, to open mines, to cut our timber, to fish the seas and rivers! When will we learn to work, not talk? Our future's in our own backyard, if we but train for it!

Must generation after generation grow to manhood, to laugh at docks on the wrong side of our estuaries; at elevators without grain; to acquire fine tastes in cars and radios; to spread their wings and leave for other lands, because they are not trained for this one? What need for the tuxedo in a land of overalls; for topes and flummery in our shirt-sleeve towns?

Shall it be, then, that we live by taxes, rates and levies; taking from a dress-cut Peter to pay a plus-four Paul? Nature went to extra pains to pay us homage. Hills and plateaus, lakes and rivers, valleys and delta lands, forests upon forests, all are there that man could hope to use. Say, now, is it work or impost that will serve us best? Shall we mine the people or the ground?

The riches of myriad ages lie locked up in the bosom of the earth, tip-tilted layer on layer so that we may see the minerals plainly. Fir, spruce, cedar, hemlock, and other trees find seeds afar, if we but let them grow. The alvery fish come to our doors, pushing headlong up the streams, to spawn and die upon their banks in season. The earth, when scraped, will yield acres of half a hundred crops. For what, then, are we waiting? Work here at hand, and now!

Must we ingraft upon a newborn world the old mistakes of centuries? "Two people to the acre" is within our means. Why chafe, then, to herd their teeming thousands into slums and bitterness; to live an alien life, apeing a culture that is not theirs and never could be? Grasping at the shadow, to let the substance go. Feigning a dress-shirt torn in backwoods settlements.

Aye, historians will be puzzled to explain all that, and more besides. Just fifty years ago we were the Western trekkers of a Western world. Alert and daring. What are we now?—a posturing, dead-end, gone, or merely sleeping under the false sun of pseudo genius. The ransom of a thousand kingdoms at our doors; and yet we prate and rant, and rave, but will not work. When will we learn to deeds that tell!

ABANDON HOPE FOR STRANNA AND BERAN

HALIFAX, Nov. 25 (U.P.)—Hope held tenaciously by those who know the ocean's wiles, was abandoned today for the Norwegian freighters, Stranna and Beran, apparently lost with thirty-two men.

The coal-laden vessels sailed more than a month ago from Glasgow for Canadian ports, but the Stranna has not been reported since, and the Beran was last seen two weeks ago by the liner Andania.

Russia Goes Golfing
Not so long ago an American golf professional returned from Russia and reports that the Soviet is going for the Royal and Ancient Game in a big way—though without admitting, of course, that it is either royal or ancient. At any rate, four courses have now been laid out in the vicinity of Moscow, and at least a dozen more are planned for various parts of the land. Golf, as golf, is as good a game for proletarians as for aristocrats, but golf as a game in a classless class system is almost unthinkable. Where is your aristocrat, as haughty as a proletarian who can smack one 300 yards from the tee. Where are your proletarians as humble as a bourgeois who dubs a short approach under the frowning eyes of a couple of caddies? There's something about being a duffer at golf which causes even an aristocrat to meditate on the beauties of socialism.—J.D.

Tight Parking
It's an old story but, as a remedy is still lacking, we respectfully suggest that the proper authorities should do it once more. Why isn't parking on both sides of Heywood Avenue, in the vicinity of the "Football Field" forbidden? When a game is on, the avenue is lined with cars on each side, and as it is very narrow, there is barely room enough down the centre for one car to pass. It would be an impossibility for two cars to pass, and the result would be a jam. Of course, it would result in some people having to walk a little farther to see the games, but it would certainly do away with the present risk of accidents.—W.F.P.

"Whys" and "Ohs"
If you want to spend a mentally exhausting, but spiritually exhilarating afternoon, spend it with a five-year-old child in "Toyland." The number of times you have to "oh" or "why" for, answer the oft repeated query, "Why?" But in recompense for the "Whys" are the exciting and joyous "Ohs" and "Ahs" of delight as each counter is passed—really a reward for the mental hazards.—R.F.G.

More About Hollywood

Hollywood is a dance orchestra conscious in a big way, even eclipsing New York, were we to believe that. The one with the lowest number of faults gains top spot for the time being. The reigning favorite is Phil Harris, a fat young man, has a new way of introducing his band. With chords the orchestra spells out his name, dots the "ts" and then the "s" and "h" are found in To keep continued dance music, Phil has developed a "groove" song. This little jingle "I'm going down South to Alabama, there to see my dear old mammy" is picked up by the piano and gives the rest of the band time to pick up music for the next selections. To enable the piano to play, Harris shall be discussing in the future a "static economy" I have been talking about the same economy that Major Douglas had in mind when he examined before the Macmillan committee in 1930.

In reply to one question by the chairman, Major Douglas admitted that if the amount of money in people's pockets were merely increased, the result would be a general rise in prices which would defeat the end in view. But he did show a price, and at the same time showed the usual bed-effects of deflation. On further questioning he explained his scheme as a subsidy in aid of prices, first saying that it could be given by the bank to the manufacturer, and received by the bank from the treasurer. Then later on he said the manufacturer would not get the credit, at all, but the consumer would get it in the form of a reduced price.

In reply to the following question "You mean you can't at the same time increase purchasing power and lower prices?" Major Douglas said: "Undoubtedly, without the slightest doubt." And not long before he said that the increase of purchasing power would cause prices to rise.

Now, if Major Douglas really believes that it is possible to increase the amount of money in people's pockets, and at the same time reduce prices, he can believe that black is white, or that water contracts when frozen, or even that the earth is flat.

Mr. Jull's definition of Social Credit sounds quite simple, but there are a few questions I should like to ask him. What does he mean by "debt-free money"? Free of interest, or in the citizen-free of liability to repay it? Under the Social Credit would Mr. Jull retain the present banking system? On the other hand, would he let the banks continue to operate as they do now, or would he let them be sold to the public, and the proceeds used to pay off the national debt? In the case of his discount paid to sellers of goods, would this dis-

I certify you, brethren, that the Gospel which was preached of me is not after man, for I neither received it of man, neither was I taught it, but by the revelation of Jesus Christ.

It is bad enough to suggest that Greek philosophy influenced Paul, but the suggestion that our Divine Lord Himself, was so influenced is irreverent, to say the least. He was Himself "the way, the truth, and the life." He spoke with authority and not as the scribes. His teaching was His own. He referred continually to the Old Testament: He was Himself the fulfilment of it. "Beginning at Moses and all the Prophets, He expounded unto them from all the scriptures the things concerning Himself." But from Greek philosophy, never!

Masonic Choir Welcomed In Generous Programme

Audience of 250 Present at Fairfield United Church
Last Evening to Hear Male-Voice Ensemble
And Assisting Artists

The Masonic choir, conducted by Cyril G. Warren, received appreciative and generous support from the members of Fairfield United Church congregation, and other music lovers of the district, when they gave a concert in the church last evening in aid of the Sunday School. An audience of about 250 was present, and enthusiastically applauded the choir and assisting artists.

Showing commendable balance, good attack, phrasing, and observation of the tempo markings, the choir did some excellent work, being particularly happy in their unaccompanied selections. Among the most beautifully sung were "Daria My Eyes For Beauty Pining," the two Collingwood selections, "Keep On Hoping," and "Requiem," both in quiet mood, with a spiritual atmosphere; the go-rolling numbers "The Lord's Prayer" (Robertson, arr. Dell), and "The Jolly Beggar" (Armstrong Gibbs), the latter being particularly good in respect of the treatment of the attack and the soft manner in which the various parts took up their lines; and the two closing numbers, Brahms' "Lullaby," in which the rhythm was exceedingly sustained, and "Daria My Eyes For Beauty Pining," in which J. M. Thomas, tenor, took the slight solo part.

In his conducting, Mr. Warren had the complete confidence of the choir of twenty-six voices and kept them well under control with reserved use of the baton.

Moose Women Hold Dance

The K. of P. Hall was the scene of a successful fund raising dance on Monday, when an enjoyable evening was spent by members and friends of the Victoria Chapter No. 25, Women of the Moose. A buffet supper was served by Mesdames R. Fanning, A. Hatcher, Sr., and A. Hatcher, Jr., J. Bohannon, N. August, S. Harrison and Miss D. Guelpa. Mrs. E. Cowden was in charge of receipts.

Prior to the dance, the chapter held a short meeting, at which the regent, Mrs. P. Harkin, presiding. Mrs. R. Fanning reported Mesdames K. Herring and C. Drysdale on the sick list. A hearty vote of thanks was extended to Mrs. H. Parker for the loan of her home for the card party held recently, also to Mrs. A. Hatcher for the splendid report. A letter was forwarded to Deputy Grand Regent E. Deane, to present a resolution concerning the lowering of dues of social members on her visit to the Piquette government conference to be held in Seattle December 6, at which Senator James J. Davis, founder of Mooseheart, will preside. The apron social for the next meeting has been cancelled until after Christmas.

The Masonic choir is fortunate in having generous supply of solo voices: Fred Glendinning, tenor; A. J. E. Bishop, baritone; A. W. Palmer, bass. Mr. Glendinning proved so popular that the audience forced the revoking of the note concerning "no encores," and demanded his return to the platform after his rollicking performance of Hume's "Invictus" and the charmingly sung "Without a Song" (Youmans). His encore was "When I'm With You."

Old Man Coyote Does a Little Planning
By THORNTON W. BURGESS

Old Man Coyote had a very good reason for not digging up all of Farmer Brown's boy traps after he found them. He was about to dig them up just to show Farmer Brown's boy how little he was afraid of any traps that he might set when an idea came to him that made him grin. A sly, crafty grin it was. Old Man Coyote was still grinning as he sat watching jolly, round, red Mr. Sun drop slowly behind the Purple Hills and Old Mother West Wind follow him, taking her children, the Merry Little Breezes, with her in her big bag.

Not once that night did anyone hear the terrible voice of Old Man Coyote, sounding like many voices, for he took the greatest care that none should know what he was about. He had a special reason. In the first place, he knew that Old Granny Fox had led Bowser the Hound over to his home in the far corner of the Green Meadows, and he knew that she had done this so that Farmer Brown's boy might find it. He knew that Granny Fox would watch where she could see all that went on there, so of course, he had seen Farmer Brown's boy set those terrible traps. She would be very sure that Old Man Coyote couldn't get out without getting caught, and he wanted her to continue to think so.

In the second place he knew that if he howled Farmer Brown's boy would be sure to hear him, and then he would know that he had not been caught, and he had a very special reason for wanting Farmer Brown's boy to think that he was caught. You see, he wanted Farmer Brown's boy to visit those traps the next morning. He hoped he would take Bowser the Hound with him. If possible, he would make sure that he did. So very patiently all night long Old Man Coyote waited for the first light of dawn. He didn't even take the trouble to get something to eat. He was too much interested in making his plans.

As soon as it is day that he will get up and start to look at those traps, said he to himself. "Probably he will take that pesky dog, but I must make sure of that. If I make a noise out around the henhouse and frighten the chickens so that they cackle, he will be sure to let Bowser loose, and if he does that I'll see to it that Bowser has no trouble in finding my tracks. And if he finishes, Old Man Coyote did not finish, but there was a wicked grin-

His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor and Mrs. E. W. Hamber entertained at Government House yesterday afternoon, with a largely-attended and highly enjoyable reception and musical for the members of the parent and three junior branches of the Victoria Musical Arts Society.

Lovely hothouse blooms were used in profusion in drawing-room and ballroom, great bowls of pale yellow chrysanthemums giving the predominating note in the drawing-room, and tall bronze and gold chrysanthemums being placed about the platform in the ballroom, where the short musical programme took place immediately following tea.

"SAGITTARIUS"

If November 26 is your birthday, the best hours for you on this date are from 9:30 to 11:30 a.m., from 2:30 to 4:30 p.m., and from 6:30 to 10:30 p.m. The danger periods are from 7:30 to 9:30 a.m. from 6:30 to 8:30 p.m. and from 10:30 p.m. until midnight.

Let your day be so ordered that it will be true evidence of your thanksgiving for the b. names you have had during the past year. The way to enjoy this day will be by trying to make yourself thoroughly agreeable, refraining from fussing or fault-finding, and endeavoring to see something humorous in every situation that presents itself. Behavior is going to be the thing that will require regulating and this can be done in a diplomatic way, so as not to cause any disturbance. This day requires that you use your head if you are confronted by any embarrassing situation or a guest that is lacking in consideration for yourself, as well as others. It may be difficult to carry out to the letter any planned social activity, so be prepared to adjust yourself to any sudden changes in condition that might take place. Married and engaged couples and those whose hearts are filled with love, must be cautious this day that they do not give unintentional offense by being abrupt in some reply.

If a woman and November 26 is your birthday, you believe in telling the plain, unvarnished truth, regardless of how much it might hurt. Be a little more diplomatic for tact is very important in both your social and business life, if you expect your friends to be loyal and helpful. You have a decidedly romantic nature and an unusual amount of sentimental feeling. Plans and books have an effect upon your emotions, so select them with discretion. Your facial expression might require controlling, for you cannot afford to let it betray your feelings too readily. As a trained nurse, dietitian, author, actress, musician, singer, actress, you are well-controlled, you should have no difficulty in overcoming any other stumbling blocks in your path to success. As an actor, lecturer, scientist, inventor, salesman, broker, journalist, or producer you perhaps will make a great deal of money.

The child born on November 26 can be expected to do the average thing it has to do in a satisfactory manner when it reaches school age. It ought to have a great amount of common sense—an attractive personality and a generous disposition. If a man and November 26 is your

LONDON, Nov. 21 (P)—A gold watch of historic interest has been bequeathed to the Duke of Kent by Henry George Impey Biddons, of Bath, a descendant of Sarah Siddons, the actress, who died in September last. The will reads: "I trust that as I have no heir to leave it to, His Royal Highness Prince George, Duke of Kent, will be graciously pleased to accept the gold repeater watch given by His Majesty King George IV to his godson my grandfather, George Biddons of the Bengal Civil Service. From royalty it came, so to royalty it should return."

WIGRAM NEW DIRECTOR

LONDON (P)—Lord Wigram who was private secretary to King George V. has been appointed a director of the London, Midland and Scottish Railway Company.

George Hainsworth Released by Leafs After Long Career

Veteran Netminder Disposed of by Toronto Following One-Sided Defeat by the Rangers—Turk Broda Will Look After Position

G. HAINSWORTH, veteran netminder of the Leafs, was released by the club today.

NEW YORK, Nov. 25 (C)—Conny Smythe, manager of Toronto Maple Leafs of the National Hockey League, announced tonight that George Hainsworth, veteran netminder, had been released. Since the start of the season, the Leafs have had two goalies, Turk Broda and Hainsworth. Broda has the job and it's his to keep, said Smythe. Hainsworth was given a ten-day trial. He was dropped, said Smythe. Hainsworth was a first-class netminder. He was a good as good as dead. Hainsworth and about twenty years younger.

Smythe also said that Charlie Conacher, who has been handicapped by a wrist injury since the start of the season, would be given a ten-day trial. Conacher will be brought up from Syracuse Stars to play right wing in Conacher's absence.

ANOTHER VETERAN GOES

Dropping of Hainsworth marked the disappearance of the second veteran player from the Leafs' active line-up in two days. Yesterday, Smythe, the general manager, announced he was hanging up his skates, although he is remaining on the team's roster.

Hainsworth said he had no immediate plans for the future. He planned to try to finish out the season playing hockey if there was an opening.

Of the Leafs he said, "They were a wonderful bunch of boys to play with."

Hainsworth has been playing professional hockey for fourteen years. He said he had only missed one NHL play-off in all that time, which included two Stanley Cup championships with Canadiens in 1930 and 1931.

The brilliant little Kitchener netminder started his professional career with Saskatoon in 1921. He was sold to Canadiens in 1926. In 1932 he went to the Leafs in a straight player deal for Louie Chabot.

Hainsworth won the Georges Verina Trophy awarded annually to the league's best goaltender in 1928-9 and 1929-30.

He recalled that one season with Canadiens he had twenty-two shut-outs in forty-four games, with only forty-three goals scored against him.

At Fenwick, Ross, apparently as good as over, stepped through a slushy deluge, built up the gloves until he climbed into the ring with the Eastsider.

Barney is boxing well, his timing is perfect, and his footwork left nothing to be desired. Managers Sam Plan and Art Wincel said they are entirely satisfied with his physical condition.

Jannazzo took his last workout in a New York gym.

John Henry Lewis, just back from England, where he beat Len Harvey, will engage in a couple of over-the-weight matches before returning to England to defend his light-heavyweight title against Jack McAvoy, the British champion.

Preparations for the proposed Atlantic City duel between Jimmy Braddock and Joe Louis are at a standstill. Braddock's appearance before the New York State Athletic Commission Friday to undergo a physical examination and sign to defend his heavyweight championship against Max Baer, scheduled for next June. Meanwhile, Braddock has resumed training in a local gymnasium.

Registers 10-6 Triumph in First Division Badminton League Match On Home Courts

Taking seven of the eight mixed matches and three of the four men's doubles, Victoria Badminton Club defeated Brentwood, 10-6, in a Lower Vancouver Island Badminton League first division fixture played at their home courts. The victory made a clean sweep in the women's events, but could not match the Victoria players in the other games. In the mixed doubles, five of the eight matches went to three sets. Scores, with the home players first named, follow:

Toronto Varsity Defeating Queens for Honors

Paced by Cram Gray, who played a sensational game with his left hand in a cast, Toronto Varsity captured a sudden death game for the intercollegiate football title last Saturday, at Varsity Stadium, before 17,000 fans, by defeating Queens University by an 11-3 score. Varsity won by smashing hard at the line and some brilliant backfield work. Gray was the outstanding player for Varsity. He kicked two field goals, one single, and made some big gains during offensives.

LIBERTY CAFE IN CLOSE WIN

Defeat Trade-Ats, 32-30, in Hoop Fixture—Cardinals And Scottish Victorious

Turning in one of their best performances of the season, Trade-Ats gave the Liberty Cafe "agers" quite a scare yesterday evening at the High School gymnasium before dropping a 32-30 decision in the final game of the three-game program.

Trade-Ats were the first to score and set-up good leads twice during the initial stanza to enjoy a 14-12 advantage as the quarters let the floor for the breather.

Calvin knotted the score soon after the resumption and then the lead changed hands twice before the Liberty Cafe established a twelve-point lead. Trade-Ats fought back gamely and twice came within two points of their opponents in the final forty-five minutes.

In the opening stanza the sailors displayed their best efforts, but in the last stanza they were outplayed at every turn, and it was only poor marksmanship by Speckers front row which kept the score down.

Taking advantage of Speckers being one short, the sailors pressed in the early minutes and had the best of the exchanges, but their forwards made a glaring mistake, trying to march the ball into the net instead of firing them from inside the penalty area. After forcing two quick corners, Bruce Robinson smashed one over the bar.

McKenna came on for Speckers, completing a line-up. As play continued, Chapman's header was pushed behind for a corner. Collins stepped in, a beauty, and Chapman narrowly missed with a header.

Wally Stuart came on and went to let wing and Whittall went to the side lines. Chapman scored minutes later when he broke through the defense.

Diamond "S" Squad Still Two Points Ahead of Hudson's Bay in Hayward Cup Soccer Series—Longshoremen and Wanderers in Scoreless Tie—Garrison Holds Bays to Draw

Yesterday's Results
Speckers 2, Navy 0.
Hudson's Bay 2, Garrison 2.
Victoria Longshoremen 0, James Bay Wanderers 0.

Blanking the Navy 2-0 at Hayward Avenue, Speckers and work soccer eleven was the only victorious team in yesterday's Hayward Cup fixtures. Hudson's Bay journeyed to Work Point Barracks and played to a 2-2 draw with the Garrison, while at the Victoria Longshoremen, considerably weakened by the absence of their regular centre-half, "Scotty" Magee, were held to a scoreless draw by the James Bay Wanderers in a ragged and listless exhibition.

The outcome of the matches only slightly affected the standing of the clubs in the race for the silverware. It left Speckers at the top of the heap with a two-point margin over the Hudson's Bay, second place eleven, and brought the Victoria Longshoremen up level with the Navy for a two-way tie in third position.

Garrison remained one step from the cellar position, only two points from the third-place occupant, James Bay Wanderers, while still at the bottom of the standings, gained their initial point in the cup race.

SPECKERS TRIUMPH
Breaking through for a pair of markers in the initial half, the first of which was of an easy variety, Speckers lanked the sailors in a fast and rugged match in which the storemen showed complete domination in the final forty-five minutes.

In the opening stanza the sailors displayed their best efforts, but in the last stanza they were outplayed at every turn, and it was only poor marksmanship by Speckers front row which kept the score down.

through a wide-open Navy defence and beat Muldrie from close range with a shot to the far corner. Speckers kept up the pressure and Muldrie made a fine save of Munroe's low drive. Now and then the sailors got away, but their work was erratic, and seldom were they dangerous. Chapman nearly scored again, his header from Stewart hitting the post just before the interval. Stewart swung the ball to Collins who made a long pass over to Bisset and the latter crashed a just-timer to the corner to make it 2-0.

The Navy made a splash in the second half Hubbert coming on for Doves. Although Hubbert worked hard, a right half, the chance had little effect on the score as Speckers had a wide edge and were continuously pressing. Numerous shots from Collins, Stewart, Munroe and Bisset missed the goal as the Drummond "S" boys kept firing away for more tallies.

McKenna refereed and teams follow.

PLAY TO DEADLOCK
Playing on their home ground, Garrison split the points with the second-place Hudson's Bay footballers at Work Point Barracks by holding the visitors to a two-all deadlock after a good fast and evenly-played match.

Attacking in the early minutes the Bays took the lead when the ball was swung in from the rule. D. McElroy who headed it to Preston. The veteran centre made no mistake with the opportunity and scored with a fine shot. From then on the Garrison pressed hard and finally their efforts were rewarded when Travis Bays' goalie made a poor attempt to save. He tried to punch out a long drive from Thompson and missed the ball completely.

A few minutes later the Bays broke away and Preston missed twice in succession, the second time with an open net staring at him. McKenna then tested the Work Point goalie with a powerful shot and on another attack flared in and scored. The Bays' second goal was a fine shot. CLAIRVOYANT HAS TROUBLES

Madame Terfen Laila, Rumanian Writer, Arrives Here From Far East

For Madame Terfen Laila, noted Rumanian clairvoyant and writer, who arrived in Victoria yesterday from the Orient aboard the S.S. President Jackson, the day was one of misfortune.

Traveling around the world with her husband, as Mr. and Mrs. Melchior Frankel, she was keenly disappointed when newspaper reporters ferreted her out and endeavored to get an interview.

Her second disappointment came when she learned from reporters she could not get to Vancouver until the next morning. Victoria might be quaint and interesting, but Madame Laila said her stop-over here would mean "a loss of a day."

HAS PET TORTOISE

With her husband she attempted to collect their thirteen pieces of baggage on the wharf, only to be informed it would be held under bond unless a large sum was posted. About this time, the Madame peered into a large basket she was carrying only to find her pet tortoise, "Snail," had become upset in the excitement of disembarking. The climax came when Madame Laila began talking about her five dogs at home, and admitted being homesick and having a longing to see again her singing dog, "Tootie."

Mr. and Mrs. Frankel have been traveling around the world since September 8, 1935, visiting British possessions. She has been making a study of the customs, mores, habits and character of all peoples for her next book. She has written six others, several pertaining to spiritualism.

Jane Dixon Says:

WHEN PARENTS DRAIN THE RESOURCES OF THEIR CHILDREN AFTER THEY MARRY THEY THREATEN THE HAPPINESS OF THEIR HOMES AND THE EXISTENCE OF THEIR FAMILIES

The first obligation of every husband is to his wife and his children. The first obligation of every wife is to her husband and her children.

When these obligations have been met adequately, then husband or wife may use the residue or a part of it whether of money or time, whatever is required, for the benefit of family or friends.

Parents, when your children marry, their allegiance is to their home, their family.

When you drain their resources, you threaten the happiness of their homes and the existence of their families.

A gold-digging parent is no better than any other leech on the body of society. In fact, such a parent is the worst kind of leech.

Dear Jane Dixon: At sixteen I met and fell in love with a young man six years my senior. The attachment began the first time we saw one another, and grew through the several years of our courtship. It has survived ten years of marriage.

Here is our problem:

During those years we were going together, looking forward to marriage, my fiancé then worked, but he had no benefits from his earnings. His people drained him practically of all the money he made. He didn't seem to object or, if he did, he said nothing about it. Since we have married, the draining has continued. They get every cent they can from him.

We do without many real necessities in our home.

Our son, now eight years old, is being denied things he needs. I can't stand by and see him neglected.

My husband seems to be too lender-hearted to say "No," even in behalf of our son's welfare.

Was I a goose for marrying this man, knowing as I did, before marriage, that he was a slave to his family's wishes?

What do you think of his people? Shouldn't they have a little mercy? How can I go about stopping their plundering without arousing his anger toward me?

My dearest wish is to make him a true and helpful wife—Bewildered.

Answer: It doesn't make much difference now whether you were a goose for marrying your family-ridden husband, does it? The fat is in the fire and has been smoldering for ten years so you should forget about going and put your time and thought toward being some wiser bird.

Only in case of illness or want is this draining of your husband by his people to be countenanced.

I would tell my husband in all kindness, but with unmistakable firmness, that his son must come first. Perhaps he does not realize that in depriving his son of that which is necessary to the boy's well-being, he is behaving in a weak and selfish way—a way unworthy of a real father.

To be a true wife you must deal with the truth.

To be a helpful wife you must help better the condition of your home and your husband.

In behalf of your son, you must risk your husband's taking offence at justice.

CULBERTSON on CONTRACT

By Ely Culbertson

World's Champion Player and Greatest Card Analyst

A LITTLE KNOWN FACT

If the average bridge player were accused of being unable to add two and two, he would feel mortally insulted. Yet he holds certain mathematical conceptions that are almost on a par with such abysmal ignorance. Even experts do not know some of the simplest probabilities. Thus, there is a widespread agreement to the theory that a slam may justifiably be contracted for if its success depends on one finesse, but even greater unanimity of opinion that if two out of three finesses must succeed the slam contract is terrible.

And now for a bombshell. The two contracts (the first requiring one successful finesse, the second, two successful finesses out of three) have precisely the same chance.

I am quite certain that this will come as a shock to millions of players. Yet, if they doubt the truth of my assertion there is an easy way of proving it to themselves. Suppose two men agree to bet $1 on the toss of a coin, and further agree to have three tosses. Obviously one of them must win at least twice and therefore it would be quite in order for either to say, "And I'll bet you another dollar I come out ahead." That is all there is to it.

A WELCOME SOLUTION

When a player is racking his brain trying to decide whether or not to bid a slam, a suddenly unexpected penalty double by one of the opponents is a welcome solution. Obviously if he has been considering a twelve trick contract he can re-double one of only eleven tricks.
